

Library spot options

Given by instructor	TV/YouTube/Web spot
	Standard Continuous Orientation opening
What's available in the TC library these days?	Voice over: What's available in the TC library these days? [Picture of the main entrance to the library.]
Of course, there are books, magazines and newspapers.	Voice over: Of course, there are books, magazines and newspapers. [Photos of book stack, magazine & newspaper reading areas.]
But you'll also have access to computers and printers—including a color printer—and access to the campus wireless network as well.	Voice over: But you'll also have access to computers and printer—including a color printer—and access to the campus wireless network as well. [Photos of students at the computers in the library, printers in library, doorway to computer lab (with sign indicating OPEN).]
The library has places for group study work as well as a specially designated quiet area for those times when you need fewer distractions while studying.	Voice over: The library has places for group study work as well as a specially designated quiet area for those times when you need fewer distractions while studying. [Photo of study room. Photos of students studying in quiet area, preferably using laptops.]
Can't get to the library but need information for a project or paper? The library website offers access to full text books and journals.	Voice over: Can't get to the library but need information for a project or paper? The library website offers access to full text books and journals. [Quick screen shots of 1. Library home page 2. Library distance education page 3. Library databases page.]
If you need assistance finding information for the speech or research paper you have due, the library staff is there to help.	Voice over: If you need assistance finding information for the speech or research paper you have due the library staff is there to help. [Group photo of staff?]
Drop by the library, give the library staff a call, or check the library website for further information.	Voice over: Drop by the library, give the library staff a call, or check the library website for further information. [Photo of front door, slide of telephone numbers to library and screenshot of library web page.]
	Voice over: Here are the Library hours for Fall and Spring Semesters at the library in Temple.
	Voice over: Check the library website for the hours at the EWCHC-Hutton Library as well as for Summer session hours and holiday closings.